

NAMUN'21

UNHCR²

Interview with delegates:
Afghanistan

Q: Is this your first conference? If so, how are you feeling? If it isn't, what made you come back?

A: This is not my first conference, it's my 5th one, but the first one in NAMUN. I really enjoy debating about the world's problems and trying to find solutions for them, and I want to work for the United Nations in the future.

Q: Why did you decide to join NAMUN?

A: I heard NAMUN many times when I was living in Ankara, and people usually say that this is one of the most favorite MUN that they attended, so I also wanted to experience it.

Q: What are your expectations from this conference? What skills are you hoping to leave this conference with?

A: Even though this is an online conference, I think I'm going to have so much fun because of my country and committee. There are going to be lots of heated discussions. I'm hoping to have better discussion skills.

Q: What do you think the ideal traits for delegates in MUN conferences are?

A: I believe that we all have to be open to new ideas and solutions, we shouldn't be fixed in our ideas and of course, we have to be respectful.

Q: How was the background research process for your country and committee?

A: Finding information through recent events was the most beneficial way for me.

Q: What interests you most in the UNHCR committee?

A: I actually never thought there could be a way to help unregistered refugees, so I am looking forward to our last agenda item.

And some questions to the Iran Delegate...